About Points of Connection

Points of Connection is a KA2 project funded by Erasmus+. The main objective of 'Points of Connection' is to foster better inclusion of autistic young people in our communities.

This has been done through:

1. Creation of an online Quality of Life inclusive measure and gathering of data on the Quality of Life of autistic young people in different countries.
2. Supporting in making services and public/private sectors more accessible for persons with autism in the different project countries
3. Finding points of connection to explore different platforms by autistic young people and neurotypical peers.

The project has a group of autistic young people from 5 partner countries who worked with the management team throughout the whole project.

Points of Connection: Autism in the Community is a project funded by Erasmus+. The coordinator is Prisms Malta, leading a consortium which includes Fundacja Imago based in Poland, Autisme-Europe based in Belgium, CRPD Malta, PLOES based in Greece, Federacio Catalana d'Autisme based in Spain and Associacao Portuguesa Voz do Autista.

Guidebook for services

This guidebook was developed collaboratively by professionals from various countries involved in this project. It provides a comprehensive overview of services available to support individuals with autism, offering them a clear understanding of the resources they can access in their respective regions. The services are categorized according to key areas of the Quality of Life Measure (Schalock & Verdugo, 2002), and expanded to include essential domains, such as:

Mental Health: Services offering psychological and emotional support, including counseling, therapy, and crisis intervention.

Education: Resources that focus on academic support, specialized learning programs, and inclusive education for individuals with autism.

Health: Access to medical services, therapies, and healthcare initiatives tailored to the specific needs of individuals with autism.

Culture and Leisure: Opportunities for creative expression, participation in the arts, and access to leisure activities that promote well-being.

Sports: Programs and services that encourage physical activity, teamwork, and fitness through accessible sports opportunities.

NGOs/Volunteering: Information on non-profit organizations and volunteering opportunities that contribute to community involvement and social engagement.

Employment: Support services that assist with job training, workplace inclusion, and career opportunities for individuals on the autism spectrum.

By focusing on these areas, the guidebook reflects a holistic approach to improving the quality of life for individuals with autism, providing them with the tools to access services that address their diverse needs.

NAME OF SERVICE:

CRPD

Description/Role of service:

In Malta, the Commission for the Rights of Persons with Disability (CRPD) serves as the national authority to protect and promote the rights of people with disabilities, aligned with the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD). Established in accordance with Malta's obligations under the UNCRPD, CRPD monitors and enforces laws against discrimination, working to ensure full accessibility and equal opportunities for people with disabilities in public and private sectors.

CRPD's initiatives range from advocacy and raising public awareness to direct intervention when discrimination cases are reported. In 2021, a public consultation process was launched for new legislation that strengthens CRPD's power, particularly in compliance and enforcement, to address disability-related discrimination and improve access to justice for people with disabilities. The organization also plays a role in drafting national policy that includes measures for better workplace integration, education accessibility, and social inclusion.

The psychiatric department of Sismanoglio (General Hospital of Attica)

Description/Role of service:

The Mental Health Department of the Sismanoglio Hospital consists of 2 Departments, one for adults and one for children/adolescents. It is an open psychiatric department whose main objective is outpatient monitoring and short inpatient hospitalization. It is based on modern psychiatric thinking of the biopsychosocial therapeutic approach of psychiatric patients, with respect for their dignity and human rights. It contributes to the avoidance of the social stigma of mental illness and the psychiatrization of psychosocial problems, the reduction of psychiatric hospitalization, and the avoidance of cutting off the patient from his environment. It has 4 Decentralized Structures. One is a hostel of adults, which is a psychosocial rehabilitation housing structure for people with chronic mental illnesses. Their goal is to provide comprehensive treatment so that after a period of time, the guests can achieve as much independent living in the community as possible. The youth hostels are open community psychosocial rehabilitation structures. In the Simanoglio Department belongs the Community Center for Child & Adolescent Mental Health (Ko. K.P.Y.P.E.) of Pallini, which aim is to assess and treat developmental, psychological and psychiatric disorders. The Department also has the Eating Disorder Unit for adolescents and youth (16-22 years old), which aims at outpatient treatment, but also, someone can be hospitalized if needed. At last, educational programs are drawn up which are attended by all members of the Department of Psychiatry for adults and children/adolescents and aim at the ongoing education of permanent staff and trainees.

NAME OF SERVICE:

Unified Special Vocational Gymnasiums - High Schools (ENEGYL)

Description/Role of service:

"The school, which belongs to the Secondary Special Vocational Education, is addressed to students with learning difficulties, which cannot be effectively addressed in the usual educational structures. In order for a student to attend the Unified Special Vocational Gymnasium – Lyceum, he/she needs to have received an opinion from the Center for Educational and Counseling Support (K.E.D.A.S.Y.), of the respective prefecture, in which proposed this educational framework as the most appropriate for their learning and emotional support. Autistic adolescents can enroll up to the age of 16 in the Unified Special Vocational Gymnasium in their region. The staff of the school consists of:

- a. Special education teachers who implement differentiated teaching programs so that students with learning difficulties can easily assimilate the official curriculum.
- b. A psychologist specializing in school psychology or special education who provides systematic psychological support to each student individually within school hours.
- c. Social worker who actively supports students' families and makes the necessary connections with social services and agencies to facilitate the social integration of students.
- d. Speech therapist, who deals with the prevention, evaluation, and treatment of speech, voice, speech, chewing, and swallowing disorders in children and adults, whatever the cause of these disorders: neurological, developmental, or functional.

The distribution of pupils in school classes is not done according to the usual alphabetical order but takes into account the particularities and capabilities of pupils so that differentiated teaching can be implemented. Each class of the Unified Special Vocational Gymnasium – Lyceum can be attended by 5 (minimum) to 10 students (maximum) so that the implementation of individualized education programs is possible. The Special Vocational Lower Secondary School implements the official curriculum of general education lower secondary schools but offers students with disabilities and special educational needs the opportunity to complete compulsory education (by awarding a high school leaving certificate) through teaching practices tailored to their needs.

EMΣΤ | The National Museum of Contemporary Art

Description/Role of service:

EMΣΤ | The National Museum of Contemporary Art Athens is the leading national institution for contemporary art and visual culture in Greece and one of the flagship institutions in Southern Europe and the Eastern Mediterranean. It began its operation in 2000. In the first years of its existence, it was a nomadic institution, hosted by institutions such as the Athens Concert Hall and the Athens Conservatoire, as its new home – the former Athenian landmark, the industrial modernist FIX brewery – was being retrofitted as a state-of-the-art contemporary art museum. In 2015, it moved into its new premises, while in 2020, a part of its collection was installed, and EMΣΤ finally opened to the public.

EMΣΤ acquires, safeguards, preserves, documents, researches and exhibits works of contemporary Greek and international art. The museum promotes education in the contemporary visual arts and constantly aims to raise awareness as regards critical and experimental trends in current art. One of its founding goals is to promote artistic innovation and to commission and produce works in all media. The museum has been designed and adapted to be sensory friendly so as to promote accessibility to neurodivergent individuals (supported by Happy Act).

Sensory accessibility consists of adapting conditions to create an optimal experience for people on the spectrum. It includes signage, support, sensory maps, staff training and other tools to help people on the spectrum and their companions prepare and enjoy their visit to EMΣΤ, as well as specially designed educational activities. Autistic individuals with a valid disability certification (KEPA) are eligible for free entrance.

Ancient Agora / Archaeological Museum of Kerameikos

Description/Role of service:

The ancient Agora of Athens (also called the Classical Agora) is the best-known example of an ancient Greek agora, located to the northwest of the Acropolis and bounded on the south by the hill of the Areopagus and on the west by the hill known as the Agoraios Kolonos, also called Market Hill.[1] The Agora's initial use was for a commercial, assembly, or residential gathering place. The Stoa of Attalos, a stoa lined with shops built in the 2nd century B.C. which has since been reconstructed for use as the Museum of The Ancient Agora. The Archaeological Museum of Kerameikos, inaugurated in 1938, is located in the archaeological site of Kerameikos. It houses finds from the ongoing excavations of the German Archaeological Institute at the most important cemetery of the ancient city of Athens. The exhibition, which includes mainly works of sculpture and ceramics, of burial nature in their majority, is arranged - in chronological sections. The Greek Ephorate of Antiquities of Athens has contributed to the development of accessibility guidelines for autistic individuals (social stories in Greek and English).

Description/Role of service:

Alma organizes structured sports activities that include a variety of sports and are addressed to children over four years old and young people with autism and intellectual disabilities. Those interested are given the opportunity to choose between different sports, depending on the preferences, talents, and needs of each child/young person. Each program is also adapted to the specific requirements of each athlete in order for them to achieve the maximum of their potential and the goals set by experts and physical education teachers. The main objectives of sports programs are training and muscle strengthening as well as the adoption of sports as a way of life. Also, the participation of children / young people in the sport they like, helps them develop social skills and enhances their taking of initiatives. Starting the program, children / young people learn the basic rules of each sport, while their training can be done on an individual or team level. Depending on the capabilities of the athlete, they can also participate in competitions in the sport they train for. In this case, the specialists/physical education teachers prepare them for his participation by setting goals. All sports programs are individual or group, depending on the needs of the interested person, and take place from October to the end of May.

This school is the Catalan reference for transitioning to a 100% inclusive school. Although, if we ask the teachers and other professional staff, there's still a lot of room for improvement. This project was born 21 years ago when inclusive education was far from where it is now from both social and political perspectives. They use diversity of methods, diversity of supports and tools, they do a rigorous evaluation, and they improve semester by semester, and the professional team is constantly doing trainings and increasing their knowledge.

These adaptations consist of a welcoming and helpful team formed to address the public's needs, lighting adjustments, and special effects. As a general rule, the lights in the room are turned on at least 35%; elimination of flashes and strobe lights; sound adjustments (for example, softening transitions between songs); relaxing areas for people who have to leave the show when it is not yet finished. These spaces may contain toys, puzzles, challenges, or information about the show. Sometimes, the show is broadcast live in this area so that people who have had to abandon the showroom can follow it. The relaxed sessions programme is available on Apropa Cultura's website. Description/Role of service:

Federació Catalana d'Autisme (Catalan Autism Federation in English) represents 48 entities that offer various services and support to autistic people of all ages and their families. Many of these entities provide sports activities for autistic people of different ages. Some of them are: Associació Supera't TEA de Reus: Every year, Supera't TEA Reus organizes the summer sports club. They do pool activities and practice basketball, rugby, paddle, football, and hockey, improving their physical, sensory, and motor skills and mental health. They also organize traditional and board games to work on social skills and strengthen their friendship group. In this club, they are adapted to the needs of each participant, accompanying them at all times so that they can enjoy sports and activities in a safe environment.

Alba Sports Club: This sports club is provided by Qualia and Associació Alba. It gathers people with disabilities and has the main objective of improving physical condition, health, autonomy, and self-esteem. The group also enjoys and learns values such as teamwork, effort, and perseverance. The sports in which the group participates are cycling, basketball, indoor football, table tennis, badminton, weight throwing, and swimming. The group participates in several championships (regional, Catalan, Spanish, and European) and the Special Olympics every two years. During the week, it trains in different facilities in the town of Tàrrrega, in Lleida. RubiTEA created an inclusive football team with the CAN MIR Football Club.
